A British Stunt Register Stunt Coordinator and former Royal Marines Commando, with experience across major studio productions, television and independent film.

I bring decisive leadership, practical action expertise and a collaborative approach, supported by a strong understanding of story, performance and camera. I work closely with directors to shape action that feels purposeful, visually strong and true to the tone of the project.

From early planning and risk assessment through to rehearsals and filming, I focus on clear communication, thorough preparation and safe, efficient delivery to the highest standard.
